Export Controls & Compliance Roundtable Discussion:
Do I Need an Export License? Where Do I Start?

Wednesday • January 30, 2008 • 3:00 – 5:00 p.m.
at BizTech • 515 Sparkman Drive

Managing the export of aerospace and defense hardware, services, and technical data presents unique challenges not faced by commodity exporters. This roundtable will provide an introduction to the “where, what, and how” to determine if your product or service requires an export license from the U.S. Department of State - Directorate of Defense Trade Controls (DDTC) under the International Traffic in Arms Regulations (ITAR) or from the U.S. Department of Commerce – Bureau of Industry & Security (BIS) under the Export Administration Regulations (EAR). Key items from the ITAR and EAR will be presented with a follow-up roundtable discussion and hands-on decision making.

About our Presenters:

Michael Doubleday – President & CEO, Excelerate Inc. Mike has held various positions including Senior Guidance and Control Engineer, International Products Manager, and Corporate Director working for Martin Marietta, BDM International, Coleman Research, and Miltec.

Robert Davis – Corporate Vice President, Excelerate Inc. Bob has held various positions from Applications Engineer to Engineering, Quality and Operations Manager for Futaba Corporation.

Excelerate is registered with DDTC and specializes in ITAR consulting, export licensing, and brokering for small to medium size companies that want to expand their business to the international market.
